As the day dawns on the fiftieth annual Hunger Games, fear grips the districts of Panem. This year, in honour of the Quarter Quell, twice as many tributes will be taken from their homes. Back in District 12, Haymitch Abernathy is trying not to think too hard about his chances. All he cares about is making it through the day and being with the girl he loves. When Haymitch's name is called, he can feel all his dreams break. He's torn from his family and his love, shuttled to the Capitol with the three other District 12 tributes: a young friend who's nearly a sister to him, a compulsive oddsmaker, and the most stuck-up girl in town. As the Games begin, Haymitch understands he's been set up to fail. But there's something in him that wants to fight ... and have that fight reverberate far beyond the deadly arena.

SALES POINTS:

- The phenomenal fifth book that everyone has been waiting for. There has been incredible hype around this release.
- Internationally bestselling author of the Hunger Games series, Suzanne Collins, continues to enthrall fans of the Hunger Games series.
- The Sunrise on the Reaping movie will be released on 20 November 2026.
- Perfect for fans of science fantasy, adventure, dystopia.

ABOUT SUZANNE COLLINS AND THE HUNGER GAMES

Suzanne Collins is the author of the #1 worldwide best-selling Hunger Games series.

Her groundbreaking young adult novels, The Hunger Games, Catching Fire and Mockingjay were New York Times bestsellers, received wide praise and were the basis for four popular films. She returned to the world of Panem with The Ballad of Songbirds & Snakes.

The story we've all been waiting for from Suzanne Collins, Sunrise on the Reaping, follows a young Haymitch Abernathy as he is sent to compete in the 50th Hunger Games, 24 years before he becomes a mentor for Katniss Everdeen.

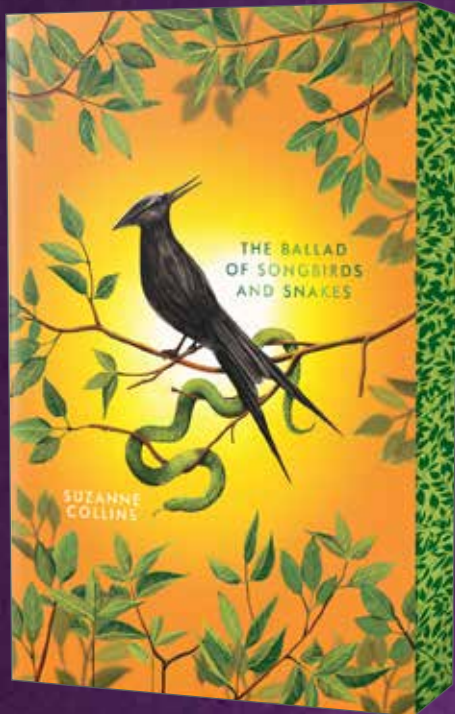

Welcome to Haymitch's Games.

“They will not use my tears for their entertainment.” —Haymitch Abernathy

Coriolanus Snow has one shot at glory as a mentor in the tenth annual Hunger Games. He plans to outcharm, outwit and outmanoeuvre his fellow students to mentor the winning tribute. The odds are against him: he has been given the female tribute from District 12, the lowest of the low.

Their fates are now intertwined—every choice Coriolanus makes could lead to favour or failure, triumph or ruin. Inside the arena, it will be a fight to the death. Outside the area, Coriolanus will do anything it takes to survive.

SALES POINTS:

- Stunning new edition of the exciting prequel to the ground-breaking and best-selling Hunger Games trilogy.
- Featuring an all-new cover design and gorgeous two-colour sprayed edges.
- Revisit the world of Panem, 64 years before the events of The Hunger Games.

Alex has only ever wanted one thing: to attend Kicking It Football Academy to one day make her dream of becoming a professional footballer come true. Alex's dream is to attend Kicking It Football Academy—the best football academy in the country. Now that she's eleven, she's finally the right age to try out. But her mum and dad are set on her going to another school ... will she be able to convince them? Or will she have to say goodbye to her dream before she's even had a chance to make it a reality?

SALES POINTS:

- Written by award-winning Australian author, Jess Black.
- First book in a brand-new series that will appeal to football fans.
- Strikes a great balance between football and fun.
- Perfect for young readers who have a passion for the game.
- Relatable themes of family, friendship, overcoming challenges and working as a team.

The girl scowled and gave Alex a side-eye before walking away.

'That wasn't very friendly,' Alex muttered to Scarlett.

'Well, good thing you're not here to make friends,' said Scarlett. 'You're here to show those coaches you deserve a place in your dream school.'

Alex nodded. Scarlett was right. She took one last look at Scarlett's beaming face and her double thumbs up.

Alex fell into step with a few other kids and walked across the pitch. The moment was finally here. Alex wasn't sure if she was ready for it. But she was about to find out.

Once everyone had gathered on the grass, a coach called for quiet.

'Sorry,' she muttered to her team.

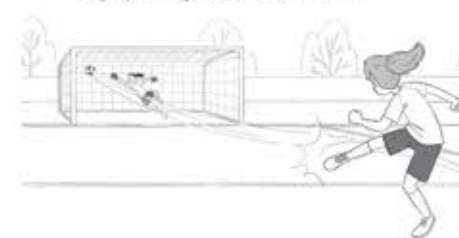

Alex needed to pick up her pace and prove herself. The next time the ball came her way, she was going to work some magic.

They were back into it, and Lucas had the ball. He passed to Archie. Archie proved himself to be a ball-hog yet again. He finally passed to Jake when he had no other choice and Jake scored. Jake celebrated like he'd just won the FA Cup at Wembley Stadium.

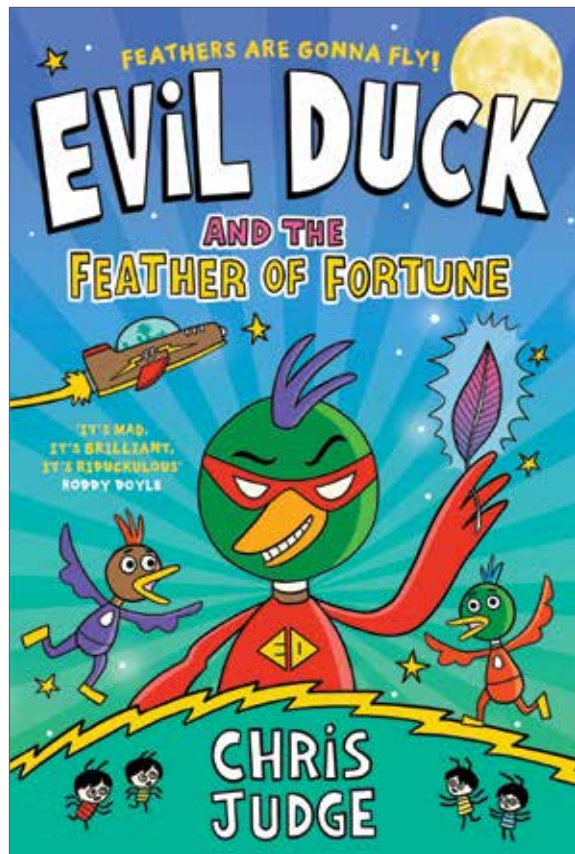

'Nice cross, Far-chie,' said Jake. 'You play pretty well when you actually pass.'

It was one all. With only a few minutes left on the clock, Tilly got the ball off Lucas and passed to Alex. Alex ran around the defence and passed to Jake. Jake passed back to her. It was a longshot, but Alex took it. She booted the ball diagonally towards the box. The ball flew in and just skimmed the goal's fingertips, landing in the left corner of the net.

Twins Flo and Eddie are staying with their grandad while their mum travels for work. Nosing around in Grandad's attic, they find a villainous-looking duck frozen inside a special, temperature-controlled chamber. Eddie accidentally presses the DEFROST button and releases super-villain Evil Duck! It turns out that Grandad, AKA Fearless Frank, is a retired superhero duck who captured his nemesis, Evil Duck, many moons ago, saving society from his sinister schemes. But now Evil Duck has escaped, and Grandad is too old to recapture him alone. So Eddie and Flo are going to have to help him track the super-villain down before he gets back to his evil ways!

Mallory knows she's a good baby-sitter. She's been looking after her seven younger brothers and sisters for years. So when Kristy offers her a steady job baby-sitting for the Arnold twins, Mal thinks it'll be easy money.

The twins sure are cute in their matching outfits. But once Mrs. Arnold leaves, Marilyn and Carolyn turn into twin terrors! They trick Mallory so that she can't tell them apart and they act like spoiled brats. Taking care of Marilyn and Carolyn is a baby-sitting nightmare. But Mallory is a responsible member of the Baby-sitters Club and she's not giving up!

Janey's family is about to set sail for the adventure of a lifetime! The only problem? Janey must leave her school, her life, her best friend, the entire country behind for new adventures—coral reefs, colourful markets, and new cultures. Life at sea is exhilarating, but there's a major downside: when you're raising anchor every few days with sights on a new harbour, it's almost impossible to make new friends.

Finally, Janey meets the cool and aloof Astrid—a fellow boat kid who’s equally starved for friendship. But Astrid can be a challenging friend to navigate, and beyond that, hurricane season has only just begun ...

This stunning graphic novel charts both the turbulence and joys of growing up.

There's another emergency vehicle in singer-songwriter Dean O'Brien's garage—this time it's a tow truck called Toot! Those goats of Granny's have been joy-riding on Farmer Tom's tractor and have got themselves in a bit of a pickle, with the tractor stuck in a pond, and themselves up a tree! Nee Naw quickly appraises the situation—he can rescue the goats and he calls upon his friend Toot to come and pull out the tractor.

Bullied at school about his stutter, and feeling ignored at home by his mum, stepdad and stepsister, Thomas takes off to the beach with the family dog, Lucy. The dog begins barking outside a cave. Bold enough to investigate, Thomas finds an injured dragon. He is frightened at first but something about the dragon's eye reassures him and invites him to come closer. A friendship is sparked. Determined to help the dragon he's called Puff, Thomas confides in his friend Huhana, who to his surprise doesn't dismiss his dragon as make-believe and tells him about Māori taniwha, some of which were believed to act as protective guardians. The dragon flies Thomas to visit his estranged father, and he learns about the accident that caused his stutter. As Thomas gains confidence throughout the story, with the help of Huhana and Puff, he stands up to the bullies and helps uncover an illegal logging operation that threatens the town. As his confidence builds, he loses his stutter and his need for the dragon dwindles.

SALES POINTS:

- Inspired by the song Puff the Magic Dragon, about a boy who invents a magical dragon, but as he grows up the dragon slips away.
- The reader is left wondering whether this magical dragon was ever real or just a figment of Thomas's imagination.
- The first in a series showing how animals (in this case an imaginary one) can help children cope with challenges in their lives.

One fine morning, Jim Panzee wakes up and decides that all he's going to do is play all day. There'll be no tidying his branch, finding bananas for lunch, or even taking a bathroom break. Nothing is more important than having fun. So Jim Panzee spends the day swinging with the monkeys, singing with the birds, and rolling around with the zebras. But by the end of the day, when Jim is dirty, itchy and hungry, his best pal Norman patiently tells him, "Too much of anything can be, well, too much."

Whose eyes are those in the garden? Look, it's a scaredy-sprout! What do you think scared that sprout so much? A-A-A-R-R-R-R!

SALES POINTS:

- New edition now with downloadable song by Craig Smith.
- This offering by the Wonky Donkey man himself will have kids screaming out the answer to this question on every page ... but are they right?
- The story builds suspense and is a great discussion starter on how everything is relative, depending on who/what/how big you are.
- Kids will love the surprise twist ending.

PETER LANTOS

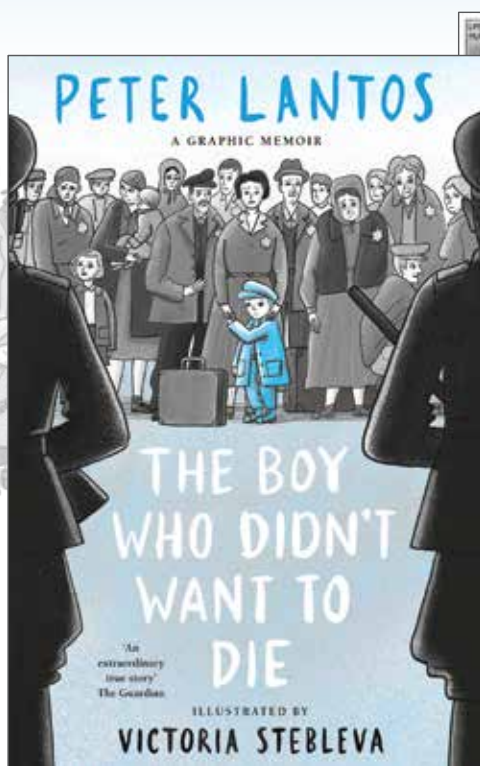

THE BOY WHO DIDN'T WANT TO DIE

Peter, a boy of five, makes an extraordinary journey through wartorn Europe, travelling with his parents from a small Hungarian town, through Austria and on to Germany.

Along the way, unforgettable images of adventure flash one after another: sleeping in a tent and then under the night sky, discovering a disused brick factory, catching butterflies in the meadows, before Peter realizes that the adventure is really a nightmare, as he watches bombs fall from the blue sky outside Vienna and starts lessons with his mother in Bergen-Belsen. Drawn against a background of terror, starvation, and his father's and grandmother's deaths, this is a story of survival; of love between mother and son; and of enduring hope in the face of unspeakable hardship.

SALES POINTS:

- A deeply moving gripping story of love, courage and triumph over evil.
- This is the true story of the emotional bond between mother and son, and of enduring unspeakable hardship.
- The illustrations by Victoria Stebleva visually enhance this story of survival and hope.

Young Michael Morpurgo always loved the small painting of a boat hanging on Auntie Iris's wall. But all she would ever say about it was that her beloved Alfie had painted it and given it to her years ago—before he'd left for France during World War II and had never come back.

Michael decides to try and find out what happened to Alfie himself. He embarks on a journey that takes him to the marshes of an English coastal village and across the Channel into France, learning a profound lesson along the way about service and the surprising endurance of memory.

In the closing months of World War II, American bombs rained down on Nazi Germany and its territories, including Austria. As glass shattered around them in Vienna, an ordinary-looking horse named Nero and his stable mates, the dancing white Lipizzaner stallions of the famed Spanish Riding School, quiver and shake in fear. But they do not panic. Somehow, they sense the school's director, dedicated horseman Alois Podhajsky, will do everything he can to keep them safe. Yet Alois can't do it alone. And in the chaotic last days of the war, as their fate becomes more uncertain than ever, Nero will play a key role in helping Alois appeal for aid from an unlikely ally—America. But time is running out. It will take a daring band of American soldiers—along with horse lovers from opposing sides—to pull off a secret mission to save the Lipizzaners from certain destruction. United by their love of horses, these unsung heroes risked their lives to preserve the majesty of this rare breed for generations to come. Join the ride as critically acclaimed author Deborah Hopkinson brings to life the exhilarating true story of Operation Cowboy and the miraculous survival of the Spanish Riding School. Featuring rare family photos and told for the first time for young readers, They Saved the Stallions is bound to please every history fan and horse lover. Scholastic Focus is the premier home of thoroughly researched, beautifully written, and thoughtfully designed works of narrative nonfiction aimed at middle grade and young adult readers. These books help readers learn about the world in which they live and develop their critical thinking skills so that they may become dynamic citizens who are able to analyse and understand our past, participate in essential discussions about our present, and work to grow and build our future.

SALES POINTS:

- Deborah's intensive research and engaging narratives have won her recognition across the library and education world.
- Deborah has a longstanding career and excellent relationship with Scholastic.
- Deborah is a renowned nonfiction writer whose care and sensitivity for topics such as World War II has catapulted her to dizzying heights in the nonfiction sphere.

One storm. One winter. One girl's fight for survival. Nature-loving Ava yearns to leave the noise of New York City behind for a real adventure in the great outdoors—that's why she's thrilled when her parents allow her to move in with her Auntie Raven in the Adirondack Mountains! It's a dream come true ... until her aunt is called away and Ava's stay is cut short. But when wires get crossed, Ava finds herself alone in her aunt's secluded cabin. Winter comes early in the mountains, and one night, a single storm will change everything. With a destroyed cabin, no cell reception, and no neighbours for miles, Ava begins to realise this adventure is more than she ever could have imagined. Surrounded by mountains blanketed with snow and ice, Ava is completely on her own. It's the ultimate test ... and her newly-developed survival skills may not be enough for her to last through the winter. Ava might not be able to fight the cold and the storms that come her way, but can she work with nature long enough to survive it?

SALES POINTS:

- A nail-biting story of courage, independence and endurance.
- A modern, fresh and inclusive take on the classic wilderness survival story.
- Themes: resourcefulness, environmental issues, sustainability.

When Mac first opens his classroom copy of Jane Yolen's The Devil's Arithmetic and finds some words blacked out, he thinks it must be a mistake. But then when he and his friends discover what the missing words are, he's outraged. Someone in his school is trying to prevent kids from reading the full story. But who? Even though his unreliable dad tells him to not get so emotional about a book (or anything else), Mac has been raised by his mom and grandad to call out things that are wrong. He and his friends head to the principal's office to protest the censorship... but her response doesn't take them seriously. So many adults want Mac to keep his words to himself. Mac's about to see the power of letting them out. In Attack of the Black Rectangles, acclaimed author Amy Sarig King shows all the ways truth can be hard... but still worth fighting for.

SALES POINTS:

- A timely, important tale about fighting censorship and intolerance that will be embraced by students, educators, librarians, and anyone else interested in the freedom to read.
- Amy Sarig King's first middle-grade novel, Me and Marvin Gardens, received numerous starred reviews and appeared on many state reading lists and year-end best-of lists.
- As A.S. King, the author won the Printz Medal for her novel Dig.

When Jordyn Jones transfers to Edgewood High, it's her opportunity to forget everything that happened at her old school. To forget what she and her friends did. To forget who she used to be. That was a different person—this is a fresh start. Now she's someone new, someone better. Except it's the very first day of school, and somehow everyone already seems to know who she is. But Jordyn soon finds a group of friends, and she even starts talking to Izaiah, a soccer star who shares her love of art. Life is good. That's until an anonymous podcast called Tomcat Tea begins revealing humiliating secrets about Edgewood students, ruining their reputations and in some cases their futures. Jordyn and her friends know they have to do something—and this is Jordyn's chance to prove to herself that she's changed. Jordyn's plan to take down the podcast throws her into the spotlight, and as the momentum builds, so do the risks—because Jordyn has a secret of her own, one that could ruin everything ... and that a mysterious harasser online is threatening to expose. With riveting prose, New York Times best-selling author Ashley Woodfolk and acclaimed actress Lexi Underwood balance an insightful depiction of the power of art as protest with asking some of the biggest questions facing teenagers today—in an era where mistakes can be picked over endlessly online, who is worthy of forgiveness? Can someone ever really change?

SALES POINTS:

- Ashley Woodfolk is a NYT bestselling author whose star is on the rise and is beloved throughout the industry.
- Lexi Underwood is more than just an actress/activist/filmmaker triple threat, but soon a force to be reckoned with in the publishing industry as well.
- This is perfect for the current generation of teenagers, who have grown up in an era where all mistakes can be picked over and posted about endlessly online.
- Perfect for fans of Tiffany Jackson, Jason Reynolds, Dhonielle Clayton, and Karen McManus.

Have you ever ignored your conscience and done something you really knew you shouldn't ...? Maya can't resist the temptation to explore an under construction section of Freddy Fazbear's Mega Pizzaplex ... Aiden and Jace decide to scare some young kids in the Tube Maze of the Pizzaplex ... and Fazbear technician Grady doesn't listen to the voice in his head telling him to stay away from small, cramped places when doing his safety checks ...

In this volume, three stories from the Publishers Weekly best-selling series Five Nights at Freddy's: Tales from the Pizzaplex come to life in delightfully horrifying comics. Readers beware: This collection of terrifying tales is enough to unsettle even the most hardened Five Nights at Freddy's fans ...

An original novel written by New York Times best-selling author Lauren Blackwood inspired by Walt Disney Studios' live action reimagining of Snow White.

One moment eighteen-year-old Snow White is taking a bite of an apple. The next, she blinks and finds herself in an enchanted and dangerous dream world. As it turns out, the Queen's poison did more than place Snow White in an eternal sleep. It sent her subconscious to the Land of Diamant, a world crafted from gems and home to the Queen's most sinister creations.

After meeting some of the others cursed by the Queen, Snow White realises the only way to save the people trapped in Diamant and her kingdom back in the real world, is to embark on a quest to find the mythical Ruby Heart.

Snow White and her new friends must work together as they face deadly trials on their journey. But there is something more wicked than the creatures made of gems, and the true danger could be closer than anyone thinks. Snow White will need to be careful, because in Diamant, nothing is what it seems.
