Romantic fiction for young hearts

Description

Stand-alone romantic stories by various well-known authors, suitable for a tween and young teen audience. The books explore themes of crushes and first love but without any sexual content.

Branding

The books fall under an umbrella series name, Two Hearts. Much like My Australian Story or Point Horror Fiction, the name is the brand even though there are multiple authors working within this brand. Parents will know to trust Two Hearts for clean content.

Design and style

The gorgeous covers are in line with the styles of the hugely popular YA romance novels, but our clear series name/branding will ensure parents recognise these titles as younger, cleaner versions of romance books.
