

Have you ever felt a-tremble
at the most exciting part?

Or felt lovely, quiet gladness,
all for you, deep in your heart?

Have you ever had a cuddle
and felt you just might burst
with love for someone special,
who sees your best, not worst?

Have you ever clutched your teddy when you're worried in the night?

Have you ever lost a race,

or have you ever had a fight?

Then, before you even knew it,
were your feelings on the mend?
Your tears all dry, and full of fun,
and playing with a friend?

And like the tree after the wind,
you'll still stand tall and strong.

Your storm will pass. The sun will shine.
More fun will come along!
