Sally Odgers was born in Tasmania and still lives there with her husband and an assortment of dogs. Sally has two grown up children and two grandchildren, and she loves walking, reading, gardens, writing and talking about books.

Over the years Sally has written a lot of books, including the Jack Russell Dog Detective, Pet Vet and Pup Patrol series, which she co-wrote with her husband, Goodnight Truck, and the Lullaby series.

Animals come into a lot of Sally's stories, because she finds them interesting. Besides, a lot of her friends have four legs!
