Azmina, Willa, and Naomi are thrilled to learn they're Glitter Dragon Girls. Summoned to the Magic Forest by its magnificent ruler, the Tree Queen, the girls quickly find out their dragon-selves have unbelievable abilities. They can soar above the treetops, breathe glitter-y bursts of fire, and roar loud enough to shake the ground. With this newfound magic comes a big responsibility, however. As Dragon Girls, they are sworn protectors of the forest and must help keep it safe from the troublesome Shadow Sprites, who are determined to take the forest's magic for their own.

WILLA THE SILVER GLITTER DRAGON

*He tried to jump out, but the new swing had got him!
 It danced around with him – stuck fast to his bottom.
 He bounded and bounced like a featherweight fighter.
 He floundered and flounced – but the swing just got tighter.*

Young at heart Grandpa has taken his grandchildren to the new playground. After leaping into the swing, he discovers he is in a bit of a pickle ... stuck, far from his dinner, and no amount of effort from the kids can budge him. Grandma to the rescue! Narrated by the grandchildren, through fits of laughter and concentrated concern, Grandpa versus Swing is a heart-warming tale of mishap and rescue

SALES POINTS:

- Winner of the 2020 Storylines Joy Cowley Award, this is Tania Sickling's picture book debut.
- Her hilarious text dances on the page with faultless rhythm and great wit: fun to read aloud and in groups.
- Superbly illustrated by Lael Chisholm, who captures the spirit of playful Grandpa beautifully.

BESTSELLER

Wilfrid Gordon McDonald Partridge was a second collaboration for Mem Fox and Julie Vivas, the author and illustrator of Possum Magic. First published in 1984, it was similarly an instant success, later translated into several languages and published in the US and the UK. Its classic themes and beautiful artwork have also seen it adapted to the stage as a play for children, but its enduring appeal is in the simple words of a story thoughtfully told, illustrated with humour and understanding.

SALES POINTS:

- An Australian classic, in print since 1984.
- From celebrated creators Mem Fox and Julie Vivas.
- Includes themes of compassion, friendship, respect for elders and community.

'I'm not good at CAMP. In fact, CAMP involves a gazillion horrible things I'm bad at or scared of. But trying to explain why I'm scared of CAMP is impossible. People don't understand what it's like to have a fizzy, jumpy, 'what if' brain like mine. I'm going to need a whole new list of CAMP worries.'

First school trip. First tree climb. 22 CAMP worries. Can Michaela Mason handle it?

SALES POINTS:

- The second book in Alexa Moses' heart-warming new middle-grade series, Michaela Mason's Worries.
- Michaela is off to camp, where she will have to face her fear of heights, sleeping away from Mum, being outside in the dark and jolly outdoor activities.
- Michaela Mason is a strong female role model for living with and admitting to worry.
- Relatable scenarios, with gentle mental health themes woven through in a humorous way, make this book perfect for readers who are prone to worrying.
- Themes include identity, worry, friendship and school camp.

*Starfish had recently made up his mind
 he was really a 'star' of the famous kind.
 So he spent all his days stuck to the glass, craving the looks of people who passed.*

Starfish lives in a tank with Seahorse, Jellyfish, Clownfish and Ray. He longs for fame and makes sure to push his aquarium companions to the back of the tank so he can be the star of the show. Then one day, a crack in the tank threatens all of the occupants. Only Starfish can stop the water rushing out. But it's in the dark recesses of the tank. Is Starfish willing to forego stardom to save the day?

SALES POINTS:

- A second book by the author of the award-winning The Little Ghost Who Lost Her Boo, Elaine Bickell.
- Shows children that, while it's fun to be the centre of attention, sometimes it's better to stay out of the limelight and help others.

It's September 11, 2001. Brandon, a 9-year-old boy, goes to work for the day with his dad... at the World Trade Center in New York City. When two planes hit the towers, Brandon and his father are trapped inside a fiery nightmare as terror and confusion swirl around them. Can they escape—and what will the world be like when they do? In present-day Afghanistan, Reshmina is an 11-year-old girl who is used to growing up in the shadow of war, but she has dreams of peace and unity. When she ends up harboring a wounded young American soldier, she and her entire family are put in mortal danger. But Reshmina also learns something surprising about the roots of this endless war. With his trademark skill and insight, Alan Gratz delivers an action-packed and powerful story of two kids whose lives connect in unexpected ways, and reminds us how the past and present are always more linked than we think.

SALES POINTS:

- In time for the 20th anniversary of 9/11, bestselling author Alan Gratz delivers a breathtaking, multifaceted, and resonant look at this singular event in US history—and how it still impacts us today.
