At Mia's new school, the lack of art is criminal. It's The Thomas Crown Affair meets the Da Vinci Code in a Tom Gates package. With a usual suspects ending! Unlike most parents, Mia's parents are delighted to find out that the local secondary school's art department has lost its funding and will close down. Mia loves art, just like her Granny, but her parents are dead-set against her 'wasting her time' with anything creative. To make matters worse, Mia's already a laughing stock at school for having believed one of her (now-former) best friend Jake's cockamamie conspiracy theories about the local optician and trying to get everyone to destroy their lenses. But there's more to this school than meets Mia's (still-blurry) eye.

The question that has plagued us for centuries: Can we change our fate?

Before the days of going toe-to-toe with the Avengers, a younger Loki wants to prove himself heroic and capable. Everyone around him suspects him of inevitable villainy. Obeying his father, Odin, Loki looks into a string of mysterious murders on Earth. Sent to nineteenth-century London, Loki's journey leads him to more than just a murder suspect. It puts him on a path to discover the source of his power—and who he's meant to be.

Angel the miniature zebu calf couldn't even stand months after she was born. Potato, an especially tiny Munchkin cat, was born with a body that was too small. And Bueller, a bulldog puppy, had weak legs that made it too hard for him to walk. What do these three animals have in common? They all overcame the impossible. Luckily, Angel, Potato, and Bueller all had the help of supportive humans to help them beat the odds—from vets and foster parents to their very own forever homes! These three inspiring true stories show that with a little love and kindness—and a lot of hard work—we can get through anything together. Each short story in this collection is the perfect length for middle-grade readers. This book also includes a 16-page full-colour insert, featuring photos of all three animals. Angel, Potato, and Bueller's stories have been featured on The Dodo, one of social media's most popular animal brands, with over 33 million followers! Their inspiring stories are the perfect example of just how far an animal can go when they have the love of a supportive human by their side.
